HANDBAGS PROVIDE PERSPECTIVE

Eternal Perspective was inspired by a passion of the owners, Bill and Lynn Gerber to help people look beyond today and its present troubles and have more of an Eternal Perspective in life. Eternal Perspective is owned and operated in Colorado by the Gerbers with their business partners, Jack and Renee Shandley.

By making handbags that are beautiful and built to be enjoyed for many years, Bill and Lynn hope Eternal Perspective will become a means to provide income for others as well as themselves, allowing them to give back to the community and to the source of their faith.

Their first priorities, however, are respectful relationships, quality service and product availability. Although they know they cannot be all things to all people, they are committed to holding to a higher standard. They realize this is a tall order, but because of their Eternal Perspective it is a standard they will always try to strive to obtain.
